IN THE SPECIFICATION

Please amend the specification as follows:

Please replace the Abstract with the following rewritten Abstract

--This invention provides a disposable contact lens package comprising with a base having a top surface and a recessed well having a perimeter in the top surface, said the well for holding said a contact lens therein, said a top surface comprising with a raised seal volume surrounding said perimeter of said the recessed well said the raised surface having a cross-sectional shape comprising with two linear sides that intersect the horizontal plane at angles alpha and beta, respectively, wherein angles alpha and beta independently have values form 125 to 170 degrees; and wherein said the package further comprises has a removable lidstock sealed to said the raised seal volume.